skram

a manufacturer of modern furnishings for design-driven commercial spaces.

- founded in 2001
- born, raised, and manufactured in burlington, north carolina
- design by jacob marks

the objects that surround us are a reflection of our priorities.

product, people, planet: skram products are designed and made in their entirety in our solar-powered facility in north carolina. our designs celebrate nature's perfect imperfection, with sustainability at the core of every process.

skram furniture is a distillation of the essential.

if form is the body,
materials are the soul.

not bound by trends or fashion, we create objects for a world that is not disposable.

we're committed to a deeper interpretation of sustainability, one that emphasizes minimalism over excess, innovation in process and in design, and attentiveness to the consequences our production has on our community and the natural world.

skram uses

- solar power
- non-toxic adhesives
- contract-grade, GreenGuard certified finishes
- sustainably sourced natural materials
- leed contributing, formaldehyde-free, 100% pre-consumer recycled content substrate in our veneered products

skram is

- a model of sustainable manufacturing in action.
- a member of american forests, the rainforest alliance and the sustainable furnishings council approachable.

austere.

skram honors both the visible and invisible elements of precise design.

L01 armchairs for elevator lobbies throughout the hotel insights and value add

skram was approached by the in-house design team at mgm for public seating solutions. the brand wanted to feature the iconic L01 armchair and V5rocker — both labor-intensive and hand-sculpted, complex designs in solid timber — within competitive budget parameters. skram leveraged the project volume/scope to offer the desired products at budget.

contract solutions

skram offers a range of flexible solutions and customizations tailored to a clientele who value our company's commitment to producing objects that are innovative in design, visually restrained, and uncompromising in their quality.

quickship

skram maintains limited inventory of select items. in-stock items ship within 10 business days of order confirmation.

rush order

skram's rush order program permits accelerated lead times and guaranteed ship dates for not-in-stock or customized items.

custom design

skram views its product line as a springboard for the creative vision of its clients. the company's product line is customizable in material, scale, and configuration.

usa made

the entirety of skram's development, engineering, manufacturing, and local supply chain is headquartered in our solar-powered facility in burlington, nc where traditional craft harmonizes with advanced fabrication technologies from initial sketch to shipment.

sustainable manufacturing

skram products are conceived with environmental impact foremost on our minds, using only non-toxic adhesives and industrial-strength low-voc water-based polyurethane finishes and local timber whenever possible, with an ongoing commitment to offering certified timber options as they become available. after having transitioned to a leed contributing, formaldehyde-free, 100% pre-consumer recycled content substrate in our veneered products, we installed a rooftop solar array at our burlington headquarters that not only sustains skram, but also feeds back into the local power grid. this annually offsets over 30,000 pounds of coal and over 50,000 pounds of co2.

custom contract

skram's custom manufacturing division was created to serve the needs of firms specializing in high-profile, large-scale interior architecture projects. from design to delivery, the company's contract division is focused on ensuring customer satisfaction in both process and product.
